Plaintiff,
v.
TANH HUU LAM
Defendant

Case No. 2:97-cr-0054 WBS

MOTION FOR RECONSIDERATION

Defendant Tanh Huu Lam respectfully moves the court to reconsider its March 16, 2021 order to deny his motion for appointment of counsel to assist in filing a request for compassionate release. Defendant agrees, there is no Sixth Amendment or statutory right to counsel for a motion for compassionate release under 18 U.S.C. § 3852 (c). However, the Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals stated in some cases, such as Rand v. Rowland, 113 F. 3d 1520, 1525 (9th Cir. 1997). The court may ask counsel to represent an indigent litigant under 28 U.S.C. § 1915 only in "exceptional circumstances," the determination of which requires an evaluation of both (1) the likelihood of success on the merits, and (2) the ability of the [defendant] to articulate of his claims pro se in light of the complexity of the legal issues involved. See also Terrel v. Brewer, 935 F. 2d 1015, 1017 (9th Cir. 1991). There are several cases, the courts appoint an attorney to assist the indigent prisoners in filing motions for compassionate release, such as U.S. v. Rodriguez, 2020 U.S. Dist. Lexis 181004, Southern District of New York, Sept. 30, 2020; U.S. v. Montgomery, 2020 U.S. Dist. 153343, Eastern District of Washington, April 24, 2020.

Recently, the Ninth Circuit stated in U.S. v. Lezarraras-Chacon, 2021 U.S. App. Lexis 28823, Sept. 23, 2021 ("In Pepper, the Supreme Court explained that an underlying principle in federal judicial tradition is that "the punishment should fit the offender and not merely the crime." Pepper v. United States, 562 U.S. 476, 487-86 (2011) -- In seeking to ensure that the "punishment fit the offender," the Supreme Court explained that judges should use "the fullest information possible concerning the defendant's life and characteristics." Id. at 488. -- In a § 3853(a) factor analysis, such information should include, where applicable, post-sentencing and post-offense Rehabilitation."). The Supreme Court's observation that "evidence of postsentencing rehabilitation may plainly be relevant to the history and characteristics of the defendant." Id. at 491.

There are several cases the courts granted the prisoners motions for compassionate release most part are based on postconviction rehabilitation and supporting letters from prison officials, such as U.S. v. Rodriguez, supra (torture and murder government's informant). Defendant believe his BOP record is the same or even better than the cited cases. See attachment.

Duc Tran's statement at defendant's sentencing hearing completely transformed defendant. In defendant's mind, Duc Tran always is an exceptional man. He had nothing to do with the affair between defendant, his ex wife and Tri Tran (his older brother), but he seriously suffered, he had not only injured, but he also lost his only daughter. The truth is Hien Tran was Duc Tran's biologic daughter. Ngoc Tran was Hien Tran's aunt, as the court can see, Ngoc Tran's children are Mai Nguyen, and Tin Nguyen, different last name. Defendant has no right to dig in Trans' affair, but to prove that Duc Tran is an courageous man when he said "Because we (not you) all make mistakes and we all have to pay for the consequences - I'm coming here today to hear you say I'm sorry. When you ask me to forgive you, I'll forgive you, but I will never forget what you did to my family and myself - May you find peace with your conscience."

Duc Tran had not only accused defendant, he also blamed himself because he knew, in our traditional culture, what his brother did to the defendant was very wrong, but he did not stop TRI TRAN. Defendant always remorses and will never forgive what he did to Trans.

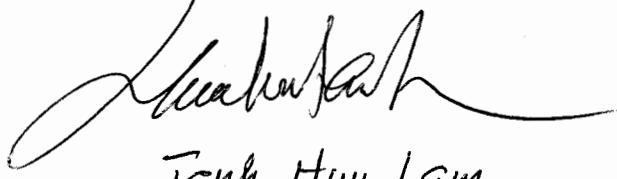

Therefore, when defendant got in prison on November 1999, he completely changed. He earned GED on Nov. 3, 2000, graduated C.O.D-E. Program Aug-2, 2001 and LCP Nov-7, 2006, has fulltime job since May 2000 with outstanding work. Defendant has also help other inmates to practice

Zen meditation to subdue their emotional problems, anger depress, sadness ... or help other inmates to play tennis, handball to improve their health. Defendant prides what he did in the past 22 years: Clear Conduct.

Now defendant again respectfully asks the court to appoint an experienced lawyer for helping him to find and interview his former supervisors, Mr. Dick Oatney, Mr. Rodney Harmon, and Mr. Nick Hall, who are retired, because sometimes they told the defendant "I don't understand how you are in prison, if you need me write something that may help you, let me know." Something like that, but defendant just said "Thank you" because at that time the First Step Act did not exist. Now defendant needs their statements to prove his reputation in prison. Then the appointed lawyer will file a skillful motion for compassionate release, because in the past twenty years, although defendant has filed numerous motions, but he always made wrong legal arguments.

Dated: November 8, 2021 .

Respectfully submitted

Tanh Huu Lam.

*LIMITED OFFICIAL USEFEDERAL BUREAU OF PRISONS*CODE TREATMENT SUMMARY
Wednesday, July 18, 2001
LAM, TANH Reg #: 91925-011*BRIEF HISTORY

Inmate Lam is a 51 year old Asian-American serving a life sentence for Arson, Resulting in Death. He entered the CODE Program for the benefits of choice housing and a transfer. Lam graduated from the CODE Program on July 18, 2001.

PROGRAM OVERVIEW

The CODE Program is a unit-based (C-2 and C-3) residential treatment program stressing the acquisition and implementation of pro-social values and a non-criminal lifestyle. The core curriculum is designed to lead participants toward (1) respect for self and others, (2) responsibility for personal actions, (3) honesty in relationships with others, and (4) tolerance toward others. Participants challenge faulty criminal thinking and behavior patterns, encourage positive interpersonal interactions and work toward preventing relapse. Specific skill-building programs, such as anger management, stress management, problem solving, goal setting, communication skills, and wellness are included in the program. The year-long program is broken into three phases. Participants attend classes/groups twice a week during the first three-month phase and the last three-month phase; they attend five days a week during the six-month Intensive Phase. Inmates are seen individually for regularly scheduled treatment plan reviews as well as for other individual sessions as deemed necessary by the inmate or CODE Treatment Staff.

PROGRAM PARTICIPATION

During the group sessions, Mr. Lam did not talk often. He did not participate in group discussions unless called upon. When he participated, his comments were always positive. He seemed to enjoy the classes. He was always on time and always in class. He also seemed to progress throughout the year socially and talks more to others. With regards to Respect, Responsibility, Honesty and Tolerance, Lam is respectful towards inmates and staff. None of the core values have been questioned in Lam's case. He gets along well with others. His honesty has never been questioned and he has been responsible during the CODE Program being on time and attending all classes without absence.

During individual sessions, Mr. Lam answers questions to the best of his ability in english. Lam speaks fluent english; however, his strong accent is difficult to understand. Sometimes he is reluctant to speak because of his accent.

His behavior on the unit was observed to be respectful. He remains quiet but speaks with other inmates and staff.

He received no incident reports during the 12-month program; he had received no incident reports during the 12 months prior to participating in the program.

TREATMENT PLAN PROGRESS

Problem 1: Not exercising enough.

Progress: Lam has achieved and surpassed his goals regarding exercise. He is able to run ten miles instead of his goal of two miles.

Problem 2: Doesn't have his GED.

Progress: Lam has obtained his GED.

CONCLUSIONS AND RECOMMENDATIONS

Lam has enjoyed the CODE Program and is ready for transfer. He has agreed to participate in the CODE Aftercare program until his transfer which he has been submitted for. He has been advised to continue in various programs and exercise regiment.

Dear Tanh Lam,

Congratulations on your graduation from the eighteen-month Life Connections Program (LCP). Your diligence is a tremendous example of courage and inspiration to others. You have also taken very important first steps toward success through your decision to voluntarily commit to such a program and to change your life for the better.

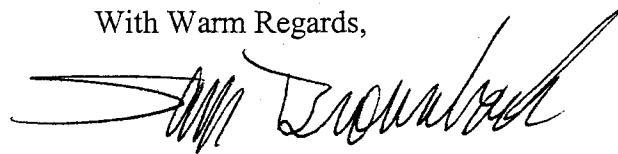

You also have a unique opportunity and responsibility as a participant of this faith-based program. Your continued commitment to excellence will prove that these types of programs are needed in our prison system to help men and women become productive citizens upon their release. You can also show other inmates how to deepen their faith and become law-abiding men.

Your participation in the mentoring, prayer meetings, letter writing, workbooks, classes and accountability groups is to be commended. Never before in the hundred year history of the Federal Bureau of Prisons have men gone through such an extensive, residential, faith-based program. The choices you make from now on will give evidence of the effectiveness of the LPC. I encourage you to follow through on all you learned.

If you are transitioning from prison, then maintain the positive relationships you've built with your mentors and people of faith. I look forward to hearing good reports from you.

May your faith continue to guide and strengthen you through all you face in the future, and may Divine favor be yours continuously.

With Warm Regards,

SUBJECT: 91925-011 Lam, Tanh - Life Connections Program Participant

I am writing to inform you that 91925-011 Lam, Tanh, is an active participant in the Federal Re-entry Program called Life Connections. He has volunteered to be an active participant in this 24/7 program that is formatted to help the inmate reconnect to his God, his faith community, his social community, his family, and himself. While he has been here he has cooperated and become involved in the LCP community which is a multi faith unit. While here he has addressed life issues that have given him opportunity to rebuild his beliefs and ethics so that he can incorporate into the greater community of his release destination. He has been accountable to the Chaplain of the Program, the Program Facilitator, his spiritual guide, his own faith group. During this introspection of his life he has exhibited remorse and a desire to bring amends to society.

This program has been helpful for him to review his life and rethink his behaviors and choices. It then has given him tools to start down a new path which requires him to acknowledge a need for change and connect in a healthy way socially to the ethics of a whole society. The curriculum is focused on life skills and also reveals errors in thinking which has brought the participant into a time of incarceration. The program is formatted for the purposes of free choice. Incentives are built into the program to help the participant make wholesome choices. His work is graded and reviewed by his guides and spiritual counselors, and periodic awards are given to those who reach levels of completion in the 18 month program. Approximately 100 men live in the unit which is specialized to offer the greatest incentives to change. The faith and ethnic groups are encouraged to build bridges of understanding and tolerance to find commonality in their faith journey. Letter Writing and Intensive Journaling are a strong backbone to the final goal of this life change.

Strict levels of behavior are implemented to build honor and character in this program. Periodic spiritual assessments are taken by the Program Chaplain and the Program Facilitator. We attempt to find a volunteer mentor to come in weekly to support the choices and rebuilding efforts which the program endorses. Strict requirements are set in place which must be met before the inmate is cleared for graduation. I request that you give serious consideration to Lam's participation in this re-entry program as you consider the changes you require necessary for moving this inmate toward a healthy release into our society.

Lam, Tanh has set himself on a course of self improvement over an above the program. He volunteered to engage in the LCP structure for 18 months. He is an asset to the Community here on C-2, the unit where the participants live and study. He has received certificates of Completion for 10 books of study. He is now in last and final trimester and will graduate in November, 2006. He often articulates his remorse and urges all his peers to seek repentance and moral change in order to rebuild their world. He has been an exemplary student in this stringent course of faith connection.

This program is one of the most aggressive programs implemented in the USP history of reform measures.

I am writing a letter of support for Mr. Tanh Hou Lam, who is a prisoner in the US Penitentiary in Leavenworth Kansas. I was a cellmate of Mr. Lam for more than a year while I was appealing my conviction for a protest of nuclear weapons. We eventually won our appeal and I & my two co-defendants were released immediately. One of my co-defendants was Sister Megan Rice, who is a Catholic nun of the Order of the Sacred Heart of the Child Jesus. I have spent a number of years in jails & prisons for protesting nuclear weapons, and I can testify that Mr. Lam was one of the best cellmates I had.

Mr. Lam was extraordinary in his compassion for the cats who lived in the recreation yard. He used his own money to buy special food for the cats and the administration allowed him to get certain leftover food from the dining facility for the cats.

Mr. Lam was also exceptionally non-violent and hardworking. He knew how to avoid conflicts and was helpful in giving advice to newcomers like myself in how to adjust to the stressful situation that federal prison can be.

He very steadfast and committed to his work in the prison. I never knew him to miss a day of work.

I hope you will quickly consider Mr. Lam for compassionate release and that you will grant it!

With hope, Greg Boertje-Obed
